The Ant and the Grasshopper

An Aesop Fable

One day in the summer, a Grasshopper was lying on the field and singing.

An Ant passed by, bearing along an ear of corn he was taking to his nest.

"Why don't you come and chat with me," asked the Grasshopper.

"I am helping to store up food for the winter," said the Ant.

"Why? We have plenty of food now." said the Grasshopper.

the Ant shook his head and continued his work.

When winter came, the grasshopper was hungry and had nothing to eat.

He knocked at the Ant's door and asked

'I'm so hungry, can you please share some food with me?'

'No, you laughed at me in the summer.' says the Ant.

Then the Grasshopper knew ... Work hard today to get ready for tomorrow.
